

“Fun”

Josephine Wood

I came to laugh
and left to cry.
I came with truth
and left a lie.
I came with friends
and left alone.
I came as a child
and I left grown.
I came for fun
and left a mess,
puke in my hair
and on my dress.
A stomach churned,
a head that hurts,
try to remember
it doesn't work.
All that I know
is I'm too young-
a drinking game
I almost won.

One shot left,
I'm almost done
then I blacked out
it wasn't fun.
